VITAL STAGE IS REACHED IN LONDON TALKS

By WATSON SIMS
London (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles met for the first time with Russian delegate Valerian Zorin today amid indications that the long search for a disarmament agreement may be at a critical point.

The Dulles-Zorin get-together was part of feverish diplomatic activity by the big three Western powers on this next to the last day of the period originally set for negotiations by the U. N. Disarmament subcommittee. The five power group has been meeting since March 18.

Dulles met with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and other Western officials before sitting down at a full-scale "working luncheon" of all five delegations on the subcommittee, including Zorin.

Across the channel in Paris, the French cabinet met and Foreign Minister Christian Pineau announced he was flying to London tomorrow at Dulles' request for disarmament talks.

The British cabinet, too, was called into session to discuss disarmament.

In addition, Dulles planned to confer with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan at dinner tonight to discuss the arms situation and other world problems.

The western delegates have agreed to submit a brief interim report to the U. N. on the subcommittee talks tomorrow, unofficial deadline for the talks, and to extend the negotiations. It was expected that Zorin would agree.

The maneuvering seemed to indicate either that Britain, France and the United States have run into differences—or that they are preparing some important new proposal for Russian consideration.

Player Contract Of NFL Denounced By Ex-Notre Dame Star

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER
Washington (AP)—Creighton Miller, ex-Notre Dame back, told Congress today pro football players have been mousetrapped by what he called dictatorial policies of National Football League club owners.

Miller, appearing as attorney for the NFL Players Assn., said in testimony prepared for the House antitrust subcommittee that present practices invite such things as blackmailing and mistreatment of injured players.

He called the NFL player contract a "legal monstrosity" which is one-sided in favor of the owners. And he said the newly formed Players Assn.—a sort of football union—may go to the National Labor Relations Board to gain bargaining recognition denied by NFL owners.

"To date," Miller said, "we have been unsuccessful in even obtaining an audience with them to discuss our difficulties." Miller said he was authorized to represent more than 90 per cent of NFL players. The association reportedly includes members from all 12 league teams except the Chicago Bears.

Warren National Bank Official Announces Retirement Aug. 1

Glenn E. Stone, vice president and trust officer of the Warren National Bank, has announced he will retire on August 1st, after serving nearly 45 years with that financial institution. Like many other successful business men, he started at the bottom, working his way through the ranks to his present position. He began his career October 1, 1912, by acting as messenger, and served in the commercial banking department as a teller and assistant cashier until 1929 when he was appointed assistant trust officer. In 1946 he was made trust officer and ten years later became a vice president. An alumnus of the Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers University, he majored in trust administration.

Riots End In Montana Prison After Guardsmen Move in and Convicts Free Eight Hostages

Deer Lodge, Mont. (AP)—An uneasy peace settled over Montana State Prison today after a day of rioting which saw eight guards seized as hostages by rebel convicts.

The riot collapsed after nearly nine hours when Atty. Gen. Forrest H. Anderson promised a full investigation of conditions at the 88-year-old prison and serious consideration of 20 demands made by the convicts.

The riot's end came only a few hours before some 200 Montana National Guardsmen and peace officers were poised to invade Cell Block 8, where the convicts held the guards hostage.

Eight guards were swept up by shouting convicts when the riot broke out in the exercise yard at 3:30 p. m. Two were released shortly afterward, and a third went free minutes before the riot ended when Anderson made his pledge to the prisoners by loudspeaker.

The prisoners freed the five remaining guards, who said they had not been mistreated and had been locked in separate cells. Then the convicts went into their cells voluntarily and the big mass of men in the exercise yard followed suit.

In all, about 380 prisoners—the entire inside-the-wall population—took part in the rioting. Another 200 trusty prisoners live on the state prison farm.

There was little damage reported to prison installations. A small fire was set in the administration building but the rioters themselves put it out when cooler heads among them prevailed.

State officials, led by Gov. J. Hugo Aronson, went to the scene from the capitol at Helena, 65 miles to the east. Aronson favored force but was opposed by Anderson. After the riot ended Aronson issued a statement saying he was glad it had not resulted in violence but added that he himself had made no concessions to the rioters.

Anderson, however, said he would do all in his power to alleviate prisoner complaints provided they were justified.

Outside the walls a standby unit of 25 National Guardsmen and 12 state highway patrolmen kept an all-night vigil.

Deputy Warden Vern Lockwood said he felt the spark that set off the rioting was his order to 22 members of the prison band to shell peas for kitchen use. The men resented the order and shortly afterward the riot burst into the yard.

There were no injuries reported in yesterday's riot beyond a complaint from a convict named Buzzy Bear Jr. that he was hit in the eye by fire extinguisher fluid when the administration blaze was put out.

Prison officials indicated they would take no punitive action against the riot leaders. However, this was not an official announcement.

Pennsy Train Hits Truck On Crossing in Kinzua

A truck-train crash at Kinzua Railroad Station just before noon today injured neither truck driver nor trainmen, although according to early reports the truck was badly damaged.

Trucker Lloyd Yount of Eldred was heading toward Warren on Route 59 when he apparently failed to see the northbound freight on the eastern outskirts of Kinzua.

The engine crashed into the rear section of the truck which was loaded with castings from Clarks Co., in Olean. Truck was owned by Charles M. Bowers of 65 Main street, Eldred. The vehicle was reportedly pushed some distance.

"Secretary of the Year" Has Advice for Others

Las Vegas, Nev. (AP)—Here's some advice for secretaries:

"Do what the boss tells you. Don't try to run things. Stay out of his personal life and he will stay out of yours."

This formula for success was given by Mrs. Jean Heckler, 44, Los Angeles, who yesterday was named the "Legal Secretary of the Year" by the 5,000-member National Association of Legal Secretaries in convention here.

Six Killed in Traffic Crash In New Jersey

Vineland, N. J. (AP)—A tractor-trailer today plowed into a car which had stopped or slowed for a turn, killing the auto's six occupants. They included a year-and-a-half-old boy.

The impact of the crash demolished the car from the dashboard to the rear and bunched the six bodies together. Rescue workers labored for nearly an hour before they could remove the bodies.

State police said the car, going north on Rt. 47, either stopped or slowed down to make a turn toward the Malaga Camp grounds.

The truck, following the car, struck the rear of the vehicle after going over a small rise in the road. The auto was pushed for 144 feet by the force of the crash.

Police identified tentatively two of the victims: Mrs. Melissa E. Scharff, 54, of Vineland, a substitute school teacher, who owns a cottage on the Methodist Camp grounds; and Roy Pancoast, about 72, Vineland. The car was registered in Mrs. Scharff's name.

The boy and three other women in the car were not identified. All six were dead on arrival at Newcomb Hospital.

State police said the road was clear and dry at the time of the accident.

Ike Is Opposed To Adding Jury Trial Amendment To Bill

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he is opposed to adding a jury trial amendment to the administration's civil rights bill now before the Senate.

Eisenhower told his news conference the power of federal judges to enforce court orders must be sustained. He added that was his last word on the subject.

Eisenhower was asked if he had any general comment on the progress of the civil rights bill, which the Senate has reduced to a night-to-vote measure.

Eisenhower said he stands by his July 16 statement in which he listed four main objectives he said he hoped would be accomplished by congressional passage of the bill.

The major section still in the bill would authorize the attorney general to seek civil injunctions to protect the voting rights of minority groups and individuals. No jury trial would be required in such cases.

CLAIMS HOFFA RESORTED TO GANG TACTICS

BULLETIN

Washington (AP)—AFL-CIO President George Meany today ordered Paul Dorfman, a close friend of Teamster Vice President James R. Hoffa, removed from office in a Chicago labor union. Dorfman previously had been suspended as secretary-treasurer of the Waste Material Handlers Union No. 20467. Meany's action made the ousted permanent. The action was based in part on findings that Dorfman's wife Rose—and thus Dorfman himself—realizes profits running to about $100,000 a year from handling Teamsters and Electric Workers Union welfare accounts controlled by Hoffa and other union leaders.

Washington (AP)—The Senate Rackets Committee launched hearings today which it said will show the Teamster boss James R. Hoffa used racketeers in an ambitious plan to seize a "stranglehold" on the Port of New York and the entire Eastern seaboard.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.), gaveling the hearings to order, said the evidence would show machinations that enriched gangsters and victimized union members.

McClellan said the situation was one in which Hoffa used gangsters, and gangsters used Communists, in a bid for power on the East Coast that each found beneficial.

Today's hearings were being televised to four cities via the Dumont network—New York, Wilmington, Del., Waterbury, Conn., and Washington, D. C.

Hoffa is Midwest vice president of the Teamsters Union and the likely successor to Dave Beck as the union's international president.

McClellan did not say whether Hoffa would be among the more than 100 witnesses to be called, but the union said several of its top officials have been summoned.

Hoffa was acquitted recently by a federal court jury of charges that he bribed a lawyer to spy on the Rackets Committee's investigations. Hoffa still faces trial on federal wiretapping charges involving his Detroit office.

McClellan said the evidence assembled by the committee will show that Hoffa used gangsters, and that gangsters used Communists, in a bid for power in which "Hoffa would have a stranglehold over the Port of New York. The next step would be the entire Eastern Seaboard and the St. Lawrence Seaway."

"The economic factors are tremendous," McClellan said. "Such power placed in the hands of persons affiliated with racketeers is a danger to the welfare of the nation."

He said the hearings will show how "hoodlums and their henchmen" were placed on union payrolls in deals which he said "provided an income for the mob that worked for John Johnny Dio Dioguardi and Antonio Tony Ducks Corallo."

More Rain in Prospect For Sections of Nation

By The Associated Press
More showers and thunderstorms were in prospect for scattered areas of the country today similar to yesterday's weather pattern.

The wet belt extended yesterday in parts of the Plateau region and the Rockies and in widely separated sections in the eastern half of the country. Some locally heavy thundershowers were reported.

In the Northeast, severe thundershowers, with wind gusts of more than 40 m.p.h., hit areas in upstate New York. Three persons in a fishing party were killed when lightning struck a tree near Glens Falls.

Famous "Island" Becomes Peninsula

Warren's famous "Island" becomes more of a peninsula everyday this summer as Nelson and Ellberg trucks continue to fill in the last section of the old Mill Race which once separated the "island" mills from the mainland (i. e., the buildings which back toward the old Mill Race from the south side of Pennsylvania Avenue.) The Nelson and Ellberg lot, formerly occupied by Phenix Furniture Company, is the last of the "Island" properties to be utilized as parking areas, fill having provided parking space in front of Nu-Way Market, and behind other buildings on Pennsylvania Avenue from Market to Liberty Street. The "Island" main street, Clark, now connects somewhat bumpily with lower Market near Nu-Way. Timesphoto.

Hot Dogs Served At Buckingham Lawn Party

London (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II entertained 5,000 Americans today at a Buckingham Palace lawn party—with hot dogs and hamburgers.

The young Queen was clearly enjoying the surprised look on the faces of members of the American Bar Association and their families.

The traditional American fare had most of the trimmings with plenty of mustard. The only thing missing was onions.

The traditional fare at palace garden parties is tea and cake. These were served, as usual, with the hot dogs and hamburgers added to the royal menu.

Buckingham Palace had never seen quite such a garden party before.

Leopold Loses His Bid For Freedom; Planning New Plea

Springfield, Ill. (AP)—Thrill slayer Nathan Leopold has lost his bid for an unconditional release from Stateville Prison, where he has served 33 years of an 85-year sentence, but he plans a new plea to win a parole.

Gov. William G. Stratton yesterday denied executive clemency to the 52-year-old convicted killer of Bobby Franks, 14, dashing any immediate hopes Leopold had of being freed early in December.

Leopold had asked for commutation of the 85-year sentence to 64 years. If the sentence had been reduced he would have been eligible for release without supervision after serving half his sentence, 32 years, plus 15 months.

The issue of parole was not involved in Leopold's petition for freedom but Stratton held out the possibility of parole. If denied a parole, Leopold, under the current 85-year sentence, will not be released until 1968 if he continues maximum "good time" allowance.

The balding convict, who as a youth of 19 with Richard Loeb, 18, killed the Franks boy in Chicago in 1924 in one of the most sensational crimes of the 1920s, has been turned down three times in bids for parole since 1953.

But after learning of Stratton's decision he announced through his attorney that he plans to file for rehearing of his 1953 parole application before the September meeting of the Parole and Pardon Board.

But the State Department refused permission, as it has all other American journalists.

Record-Breaking Earnings Of U. S. Steel Likely to Provide Topic For Price Investigators

New York (AP)—Record breaking earnings for United States Steel Corp. appeared likely today to provide another discussion topic for Senate price investigators next week in Washington.

Roger Blough, chairman of the nation's largest steel producer, is scheduled to go before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee next Tuesday. The committee is headed by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

Yesterday Big Steel reported record breaking earnings for both the second quarter and the first half of 1957. The second quarter earnings of $115,943,199, equal to $2.04 a common share, were the largest for any three months in the company's history.

At a news conference Blough tended to depreciate the record earnings, noting they were only slightly higher than the previous record for any three months. That occurred in the first quarter, when net income totaled $115,478,109 or $2.03 a share.

Another official of the company noted that the income for three months and the first half of the year amounted to a return of 8.9 per cent on sales. If that pace continues, he said, earnings for the year would make it only the 19th best year from the standpoint of return on sales. Nevertheless Big Steel which touched off a recent price hike in steel products, is the only one of the five largest producers to show (Turn to Page Twelve)

Break in Sound Barrier Jars Parts of the State

Harrisburg (AP)—A blast that was heard in central Pennsylvania last night was blamed on a jet plane breaking the sound barrier. Residents at Harrisburg, Middletown, Selingsgrove and Lewisburg reported a loud explosive noise about 8:15 p. m.

A spokesman at Olmsted Air Force Base said the base had no information on a jet flight at the time but that it could have been a short flight. The base tracks only cross-country flights.

City police said they believed the blast was caused by a jet.

Higher Costs For Cement Loom As Result of Strike

Allentown (AP)—Construction firms, trying to catch up on their summer schedules after a 2 1/2-month cement strike, today faced the prospect of higher prices for cement.

Predictions of price rises before the year is out have come from several sources in the industry. Top executives from two cement firms in the Lehigh Valley, a rich producing area in eastern Pennsylvania, said a price boost will come along in late fall. They declined to be quoted by name, however, and would not estimate the size of the possible increase.

They pointed out that price increases customarily are withheld until after the peak summer building period so as not to upset construction contracts.

Meanwhile, additional plants across the nation returned to operation after signing agreements. By now, virtually all cement plants have settled or are well on their way to doing so. Most Pennsylvania plants were also back in operation today, but local side issues were holding up agreements at some plants.

Wisconsin GOP Names Friend Of Ike Candidate For Senate

By ARTHUR BYSTROM
Milwaukee (AP)—Wisconsin Republicans nominated a firm friend of President Eisenhower's "Modern Republicanism" yesterday for the Senate seat previously held by Ike-battling Joseph R. McCarthy, who died May 2.

Waiter J. Kohler Jr., 53-year-old three-time governor of the state, edged out former Rep. Glenn R. Davis in a finish decided by the last vote counting in metropolitan Milwaukee precincts.

Kohler was alone in the seven-man GOP field in his full support of the President.

None of the fireworks attendant on the career of Sen. McCarthy carried over into the campaign.

Only State Sen. Gerald Lorge, who ran a poor sixth, called upon McCarthy's old supporters for help.

general election Aug. 27 by William Proxmire, whom he beat twice previously in gubernatorial elections. Proxmire won the Democratic nomination by defeating Rep. Clement Zablocki of Milwaukee.

The August election is for the remainder of McCarthy's term, which expires in January 1959.

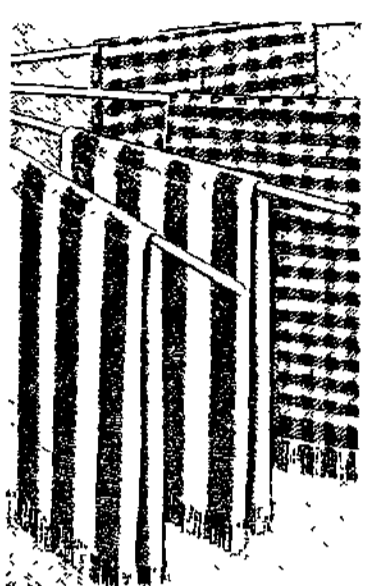

Kohler, president of the Vollrath Co., an enamelware firm at Sheboygan, is a member of the family that founded the Kohler Co. The Kohler Co. is involved in the longest strike in the United States—it started April 5, 1954—but the former governor has no connection with the company now.

He was elected governor in 1950 in his first try for public office and was re-elected in 1952 and 1954, beating Proxmire on his last

THE FIREFLY

The little lamp of the firefly may light up some of the mysteries of life.

Life is possible because plants can change sunlight into chemical energy. Fireflies turn this energy back into light—and do a much more efficient job than any electric company.

A light bulb wastes most of its energy as heat. A firefly operates its lamp without heat, at better than 95-per-cent efficiency.

Jealous electric companies retort that it would take more than 137,000 lightning bugs to equal a 60-watt bulb. But the companies admit that they might learn something from these light-bearing beetles.

The firefly may also prove a boon to medicine. Already, says the National Geographic Society, chemicals extracted from lightning bugs can be used to measure a compound known as adenosine triphosphate or ATP, which is present in every living thing.

ATP is a storehouse for energy. The chemical holds energy in the muscle of an animal until the nervous system releases it. Scientists studying fireflies hope to find out more about how this energy is turned on and off.

To help science, boys and girls in Baltimore are catching fireflies for biochemist William D. McElroy, of Johns Hopkins University. He pays 25 cents per hundred, but accepts none sent by mail.

The firefly lights up when a nerve impulse triggers a chemical reaction in its abdomen. A substance known as luciferin combines with oxygen. To bring about this chemical "marriage," a second substance—the enzyme called luciferase—acts as the catalyst or "clergyman."

ATP supplies energy to the luciferin. Since there are instruments to measure light exactly, scientists can use luciferin to determine how much ATP is present in an animal tissue. This may lead to a better understanding of human chemistry and the further conquest of disease.

A boy firefly flashes when he wants a date with a girl firefly. If the female likes the look of his flash, she turns on her lamp to accept the date. If a suitor of a different species appears, too, the female eats him.

A female can recognize Mr. Right because lightning bugs have a sort of Morse code: One species uses two short flashes every five seconds; another uses a short flash followed by a long one, and so on.

Most fireflies eat nothing while sparking. Instead they use energy saved up from their larval days, when they batted on snails and cutworms. Birds generally leave fireflies alone because they dislike the taste.

Sometimes lightning bugs flash in unison. The chorus of flashing may start when a female responds to a male's light. This stimulates other males, who start flashing. They in turn make other females in the area feel romantic. Soon the males are flashing together in response to a chorus of female flashing.

Among the interesting articles that appeared in Tuesday's issue of the Times-Mirror was one under the heading "Assemblyman Reporting," printed on page twelve. If it escaped your attention we suggest you take time out and peruse it carefully, since it provides a reply to many of the statements made by Secretary of Welfare Harry Shapiro during his visit to the Warren State Hospital last week, concerning particularly the present financial picture, as compared to the previous biennium.

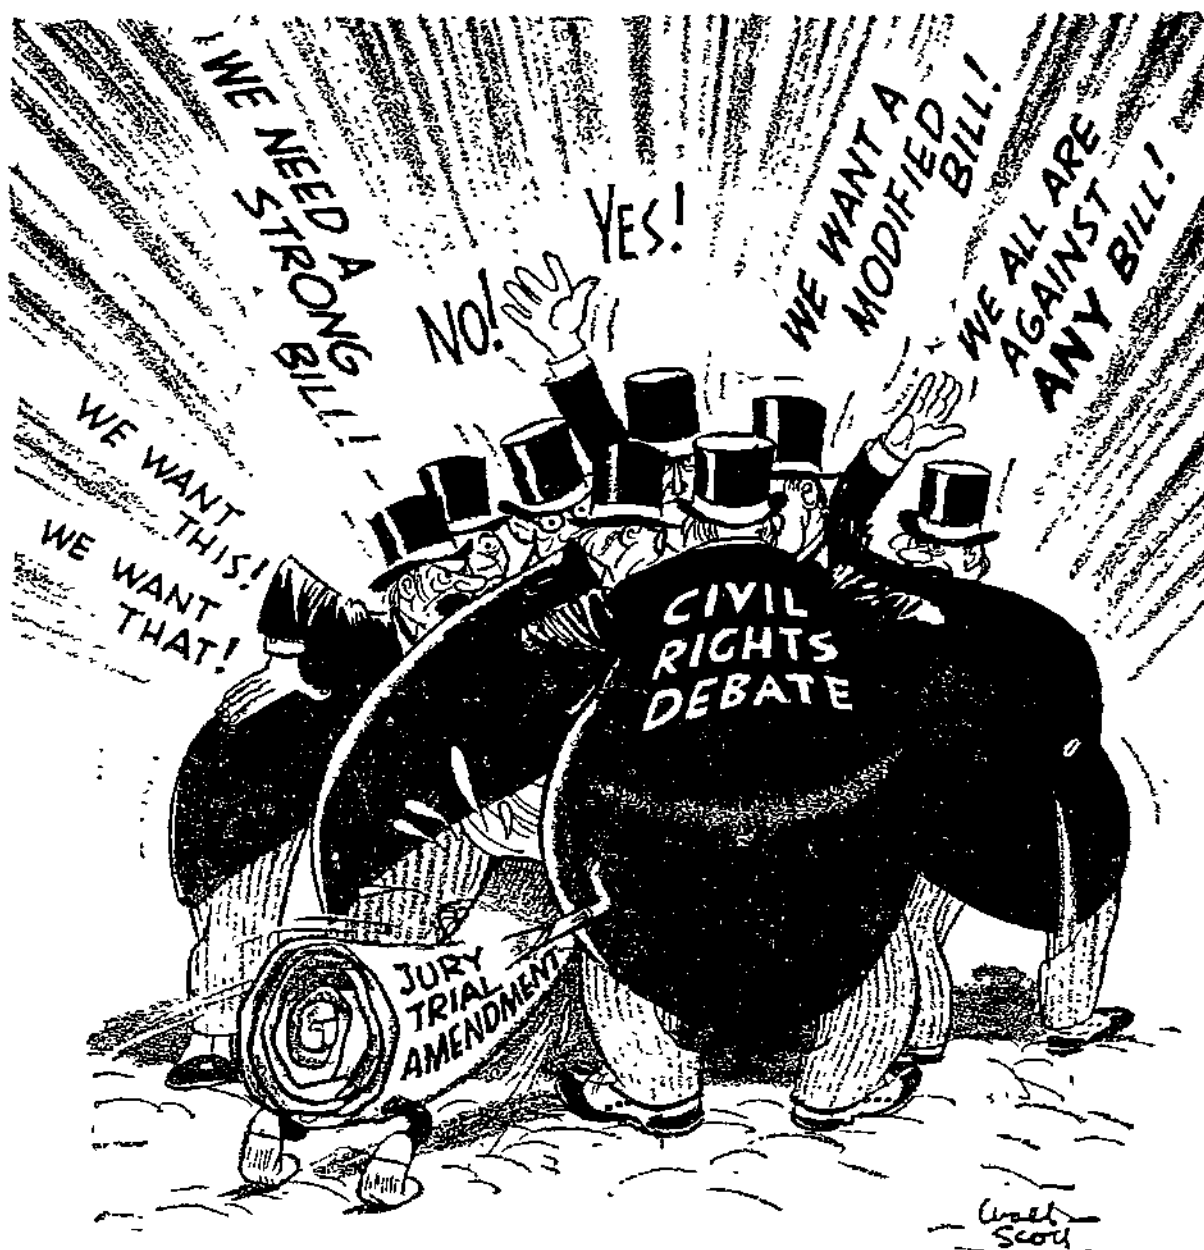

For the second time since Hot Stove came into existence in Warren in the winter of 1949, two teams of "All Star" players from each of the five divisions will be matched against one another in the program planned at War Memorial Field Saturday August 10th, as a benefit for Kiwanis club activities such as the Children's Aid Society, Crippled Children's Committee, the Salvation Army as well as cases referred to the directors by the various club committees.

Matter Of Fact:

"Storm Center in Riyadh"

By JOSEPH ALSOP

The real center of the new storm in the Middle East is not in remote Oman, where the tribes have risen against their British-protected Sultan. The real center is in Riyadh, at the court of King Saud of Saudi Arabia, whence the tribes have been encouraged to rise.

Despite the vast, air-conditioned palace in the desert and the garages crowded with Cadillacs, King Saud's court is still in essence purely medieval. There is no normal modern apparatus of the government. There is just the King himself, an absolute monarch ruling personally and alone. If the King's mood alters or his judgment of a situation changes, his most important and long established policy may be reversed overnight.

Last October, King Saud made just such a change of policy, when he quite suddenly ceased to finance and support the ambitious efforts of Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser to extend his political power in other Arab lands. Then in April, King Saud went still further, importantly helping King Hussein in the Jordan crisis and thus embarking on open opposition to Nasser's designs.

The new policy developed by King Saud since last October is clearly the single most crucial factor in the new Middle Eastern alignment that has emerged since the proclamation of the Eisenhower doctrine. If King Saud again changes his mind, returning to his former collaboration with Egypt, Nasser will no longer be menaced by progressive isolation. The whole carefully constructed front of Arab friends of the West will thereafter rapidly collapse.

It can be seen, then, why King Saud's reactions in the present crisis have really overwhelming importance. Furthermore, there are many around him who will do their best to encourage violent reaction.

The circumstances of the King's crucial decision to cease supporting Nasser are still, nine months later, altogether wrapped in mystery. His brother and heir, Crown Prince Faisal, certainly did not favor the great policy changes. Neither did any of the King's most frequently influential personal advisers, the Palestinian, Jamal Bey Hussein, the Syrian, Yussuf Yassine, and the Libyan, Khalid Abu Walid.

In this still-medieval court, the members of the King's entourage certainly adapted themselves to his change of policy after it had occurred. But even on King Saud's recent visit to Baghdad, Yussuf Yassine was still fighting what amounted to a rearguard action against the formation of the new front of Arab leaders friendly to the West. Clearly, therefore, there will be no lack of persons ready to use the Oman crisis as a lever to persuade King Saud to alter his policy again.

It is even quite possible that this faction at the Saudi court joined with the Egyptians to instigate the tribal rising in Oman without King Saud's direct approval. This reporter clearly remembers the sharp contrast, last year, between the King's moderate and calm discussion of the related dispute over the Buraimi oasis and the bitterness evinced by Prince Faisal when discussing the Buraimi problem.

But whether the King was involved from the outset, or whether the Oman rising was instigated by others, the fact remains that the King is inevitably involved in the affair now. The Imam of Oman, who is the leader of the rebellious tribes, has passed his exile at the Saudi court and is a Saudi protégé. Whether or not appearances are deceptive, the rising is universally regarded as a Saudi Arabian project.

This is why the Oman affair catches the American policy makers squarely between the devil and the deep blue sea—or rather catches them squarely between the British, who are our chief trans-Atlantic allies, and King Saud, who is the key to our new Middle Eastern policy.

The British attempt to suppress the Oman rising and restore the Sultan's authority will be painted in lurid colors by the Egyptians and their friends in Riyadh, as an imperialist venture and a flagrant affront to King Saud. Everything possible will be done to inflame the situation to the point where King Saud will insist on active American support in this matter. Every effort will be made to persuade King Saud that the Americans have let him down.

The basic facts are simply not available anywhere for a prediction of the outcome. Too much depends on the unknown local situation in Oman. The storm will probably pass if the rising can be rapidly overcome, whereas the storm will become downright appalling if large British troop movements are eventually required and ordered. Too much depends, too, on the mysterious internal pattern of influence and personality in the Saudi Arabian court.

But it is clear that the Oman rising may end by changing King Saud's policy towards the West and towards Nasser. That is really why it is an ugly business.

Needy Western Family Finds Warm Hearts in Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh (P)—A downtrodden Western family that arrived here penniless Monday looked to a possible brighter future today, thanks to policemen and others who interceded for them.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace of Tempe, Ariz., showed up at central police station seeking help. They were broke. Their car needed repairs and they needed a place to stay.

Included in the family were four children, Robert Jr., 5; Vickie, 4; Patricia, 2, and Dorothy, 8 months. They said they had gone to New York to see a specialist about Patricia's throat which had been severely burned when she swallowed some lye recently.

When word of their plight spread police were kept busy answering phone calls offering help. A hotel put up the family for the night, the operator of a night club said he'll buy new clothes for the children and another person offered to replace their auto with another machine in better condition.

Best of all, the night club operator said he would give Wallace—a cook—a $100 a week job and a $100 advance in salary.

Whether they decide to stay in Pittsburgh, or go back to Arizona, the family indicated it would now have enough money for the operation the New York specialist said would cure Patricia's throat condition.

The Mature Parent

Just Plain Words Won't Rid Children of Jealousy

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

"It isn't fair!" is the eternal complaint of the G's two older children.

Nine-year-old Janet will come home to find her younger brother on the back porch scraping the cake batter bowl. Flying to her mother, she'll cry, "Why does he always get everything? Just because I had to go to the library, you didn't have to let him scrape the whole bowl! It isn't fair!"

RECOGNIZING the jealousy behind these accusations, Mrs. G. tries to soothe it by declaring impartial love for both children. Doggedly, day in, day out she says, "I love you both the same." It doesn't work.

Words do not rid children of jealousy. Time does—and their own increasing experience of our reliability.

Thus, the jealous accusations of Janet and George seek a reassurance from their mother that is beyond her power to give.

It might be wise to tell them just that—to say, "I can't make you believe that I'm fair to you. You are the person who has to make up his mind about that as you get to know more and more about me." Speaking this truth will benefit Mrs. G. quite as much as the children.

SHE is not responsible for the jealousy between Janet and George. It is a characteristic of all human nature.

So, instead of wasting time wondering what awful thing she did to create it, she'd better start resisting her fear that she's to blame for it. For until she does, she'll just go on recoiling from every new evidence of it as more damning proof of her incompetence.

And the children will have to go on attacking her as "unfair."

What else, given her fear of their jealousy, can they do?

They fear what their mother fears. When their mother recoils from their jealousy as frightening, they promptly run away from it, too, crying, "You are unfair!"

East Siders Enjoy Extensive Jaunt

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Covell and sister, Mary Lou Covell, with Mr. and Mrs. Otto W. Mattson, all of North South street, have returned from an extended trip through several southern and western states, visiting Mammoth Caves, Grand Canyon, Salt Lake City, Yellowstone National Park, Black Hills of South Dakota.

They report the carvings of presidents' faces in the mountain wall at Mt. Rushmore "a beautiful monument to see" and the Bad Lands of South Dakota "beyond describing what Mother Nature has done to rock sand and lava formations, making mounds, ravines and gulches, with different layers like striped candy or cake, all beautiful when the sun shines on them". However, the travelers report, "we still welcomed our Pennsylvania hills and good drinking water, for the west has mostly sulphur or mineral water of one kind or another".

Another feature of their trip was the sight of panhandling bears in Yellowstone Park, begging from cars and causing "bear jams" in traffic. In South Dakota, they passed a big ranch, where mules of all ages were tying up traffic as they begged for something to eat from the passerby. In this group were about 50 of the animals, strung out along the road and including "tiny babies to grandfathers".

'Next Week' Dieters Forget Goal

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

THE women who say, "I'm going on a diet next week," are the ones who somehow never get around to dieting.

The reason for this is simple: things you put off cease to have importance. Therefore, if you know you need to lose weight (your mirror and your scale tell you so), don't make any resolutions about starting to diet next week or next month. Start with the next meal.

Nobody says it will be easy at the outset. Breaking a bad habit never is easy and that's exactly what overeating is.

It's overeating, not glandular trouble, that's responsible for the fact that some women tote about with them extra pounds of fat from five pounds way on up. Since this is about as comfortable as carrying a bag of groceries of the same weight, taking off the excess makes sense. And delaying the day doesn't.

IN this era of good home permanents, cream hair dressings and hair sprays that hold a curl, most teen-agers are their own hairdressers.

On a teen-age budget, this makes sense. The gals just can't afford a weekly hairdo at a high-priced salon. Besides, they like to develop skill in handling their own hair and this, too, is a good idea. But there is one spot where salon help comes in handy. And that's for expert haircutting.

No girl can cut her hair as well, even with the help of a friend, as an expert can. And, if she has hair problems, she'd do well to cut down on her clothes budget a bit and spend money on treatments at a salon.

Best time to catch any hair problem—dandruff, dry scalp, oily hair, thin hair or bushy hair—is at the very beginning.

GIRLS who wear glasses tend to shy away from eye make-up. Actually, there's no reason why they shouldn't wear it in the evening hours, same as anyone else.

But, there are a few tricks to remember in using it. The color of your frames is a factor to be considered along with the color of your eyes. Don't let the two clash. They should harmonize. And the make-up should not be so heavy as to be startling.

Make sure that it doesn't interfere with the sweep of the frame in any way. Color of eye-shadow and mascara, the line of the brow, all should fit in perfectly with your glasses. If it's done properly, the result should be pretty, slightly shadowy and very mysterious.

Mirrored in Our Times

'Round Town—It always pays to take a leisurely drive in almost any direction in the borough. Yesterday when cruising east, we spotted a small merry-go-round in operation. Hitched to a truck bearing a familiar brand name, the gay vehicle swarmed with boys and girls who were whirled to the music of none other than "Elvis"! Quite an advertising stunt.

One of the sights we're sorry we missed was the Friday spectacular at CVCC—Mid Angove's hole in one—and there isn't anyone we'd rather see score than the lady of Century House.

Speaking of the CVCC—the time is ripe for the annual Bavarian Party with festivities due to start at 5:30 p. m. Saturday. Invitations to the affair were unusually clever and a record crowd is anticipated by the committee.

Fall fashions are very much in evidence when August rolls around and we note that the experts predict plenty of smart black—accented, however, with color (preferably pastels). Delicate jewel tones have become popular no matter what the season and jewelry, in exquisite taste, adds the perfect touch to midday's costume. Be it crisp cotton; the silk; feminine starched chiffon or new autumn creations, the fragile jewel tones are very much in order. Done in metal or enormous pearl-like gems, the iridescent pinks, blues, lavenders; yellows or shades of turquoise achieve a definite place in the average wardrobe. Be it a slender necklace or a three-strand massive accessory—there's a notable trend toward color!

Coro—the nation's most famous name in costume jewelry—has created the most luscious colors imaginable in a streamlined presentation of exquisite accessory additions. Matched pieces including earrings, bracelets, pins or necklaces that actually make your mouth water! Choose "Coro" in color at the Warren Drug Store today.

P.S. — Don't pass 233 Liberty street in too great a hurry—there's a double window display that's too artistic to miss.

From the current Post Scripts (a Saturday Evening Post)—it was impossible to resist a reprint of this Norman R. Jaffray opus:

"The time our hostess mentioned. For the dinner date was 'eight-ish'." And our plans were well-intentioned: Neither early-ish nor late-ish. The proper-timed incursion, As we knew was in-between-ish. So we managed a diversion. And we stalled till eight-fifteen-ish. Our hunger pangs were awful. And our appetites were swinish. But we never got a jawful. Till a quarter-after-nine-ish. So my patience met its finish. And my helpmate I admonish. That we'll do our eat-in-ish. And on-time-ish from now-in-ish."

But no matter what your plans—you're not too-late-ish for excellent summer clothing buys nor too-soon-ish to preview what's new in fall menswear at The Style Shop. So why not stop right away and join the well dressed men who say—"the best in menswear" is always featured at The Style Shop.

What with all the hurrah about casting for the motion picture production of Herman Wouk's book "Marjorie Morningstar," we find

Ruth Millett

1 Love My Husband, But' Is Heard Much Too Often

"I LOVE my husband, but . . ." Whenever a reader begins a letter with those words a list of her husband's faults is sure to follow.

After years of reading such letters I am beginning to wonder if the woman who—even in her own thoughts—always adds "but" after the declaration, "I love my husband," really does love him.

Isn't it more likely that what she feels is, "I would love my husband if he weren't the way he is?"

And that, of course, isn't love at all. A woman who really loves her husband loves him as he is. If she has been married to him for any length of time she is sure to know that he isn't perfect.

She is bound to have found faults that make him less than a perfect husband.

But because she loves him she doesn't dwell on the faults or wish constantly that he would change.

Instead, she is thankful for his good qualities and makes sure that others know what they are.

SHE'S NOT PERFECT

AND if she can see herself as clearly as she can see her husband's she knows that she isn't perfect, either, that for every fault she puts up with in her husband he is putting up with a fault of hers.

Any woman who catches herself thinking, "I love my husband, but . . ." ought to examine the love she professes.

It may shock her to learn that her love isn't as great or as generous or as rewarding to her husband as she has always thought it to be.

"I love my husband, but . . ." may only mean "I would love my husband if . . ." And that, of course, isn't love at all.

Pennsylvania State University Hikes Fees for Students

University Park (P) — The Pennsylvania State University has announced an increase in student fees and room and board charges, effective at opening of the fall term, and said it was due to mounting costs.

Student fees will be increased from $280 to $350 a year for full-time resident students and from $580 to $750 for out-of-State students. Graduate, special, two-year agricultural and Mont Alto students will pay comparable increases.

Basic room and board charges, including dormitory counseling services, will go up from approximately $690 to $762 a year for men students and $690 to $780 a year for women, the figures varying according to the type of accommodation.

"Our general aim in this matter," said President Eric A. Walker, "is to effect a fee schedule that will be consistent with our commitment to provide an inexpensive education for the college-age youth of the commonwealth, and still permit Penn State to carry out the services and functions expected of it as the state university."

Saying Grace In School Has New Jersey Town in a Dither

Edgewater Park, N. J. (P)—Controversy rages in this tiny town over whether elementary school children here can say grace before lunch.

The attorney general of New Jersey says it's illegal.

The supervising principal says "ridiculous."

Edgewater Park has two elementary schools—Magowan and Farnum. Magowan teaches the first through the fourth grades. Farnum, grades five to eight. The town has only 350 residents but children come here to school from outlying districts. The combined attendance of Magowan and Farnum is close to 400.

About 350 of the pupils, those who come from some distance to school and lunch in the cafeterias, had been saying grace for some years in their classrooms just before leaving to eat.

This practice was abandoned in March after the school board received a protest. It was resumed in April when a petition bearing 603 names objected. Meanwhile, the school board asked the state attorney general Grover C. Richman Jr. for a ruling.

Richman's decision was received here this week.

It read: "Grace invokes the divine blessing before a meal. As a religious exercise, it is barred in the public schools of this state. There can be no legal or constitutional objection, however, to the reading of passages from the Old Testament or the repeating of the Lord's Prayer immediately prior to the noon meal."

New Jersey law requires the reading of at least five verses of the Old Testament, without comment, in each classroom to start the school day. The State Supreme Court has ruled that the Lord's Prayer and the Old Testament are nonsectarian.

PLANE AT HOLLOW

Cable Hollow had one of its few plane visitations, Monday evening about 8 o'clock when a pilot landed in the hay field of Leland Haller about three-quarters of a mile above Akeley on the Cable Hollow Road. The pilot asked directions to Warren, reported Mrs. Haller, after he informed them that he had lost his bearings. After receiving the information he took off with no difficulty and ended in this direction.

MRS. LOTTIE AKIN

Corydon—Funeral services were held at 1:00 p. m. today in Jamestown for Mrs. Lottie B. Akin, aged 89, who died Sunday in WCA Hospital in that city following a lengthy illness. The Rev. C. Norton Warner, pastor of Kidder Memorial EUB church, officiated and burial took place in Lakeview cemetery.

The widow of Alva F. Akin and well known in this community, she was born December 25, 1867, in the Town of Poland, the daughter of Francis and Mary Forbes, but had lived in Jamestown nearly all her life. She and her husband operated a grocery store in Foote avenue for many years.

Surviving is one daughter, Mrs. Warren Stumpf, Jamestown.

PRISCILLA'S POP

FALLEN ANGEL—The famed Independence Pillar in earthquake-ravaged Mexico City was shorn of its gulf and bronze angel which toppled from its normal position, left, into the Paseo de la Reforma plaza, right. Shocks from the city's worst quake in 48 years shook the figure from its position atop the 90-foot-high column.

Hospitalization of Jackson Will Not Cause Patterson To Change Plans For Next Fight

... AND STILL CHAMPION—Ring announcer Harry Balogh raises the arm of winner and still heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson after the 22-year-old scored a TKO over challenger Tommy "Hurricane" Jackson in his first title defense. Patterson at 184 pounds administered a severe beating to the 192½-pound challenger at New York's Polo Grounds.

By MURAY ROSE
New York (AP)—Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson says the hospitalization of Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson won't deter him from going all out against Olympic king Pete Rademacher in their August 22 title bout in Seattle.

Physicians said Jackson had suffered a bruised kidney as a result of the beating and recommended that he be confined to the hospital for several days for further observation. Patterson visited him at the hospital early yesterday.

Patterson, who won the Olympic 165-pound crown at 17 in 1952, said he will resume training at Greenwood Lake, N. Y., Thursday.

Rademacher, a 6-1½, 212-pound former football lineman from Washington State and Grandview, Wash., captured the Olympic title at Melbourne with three straight knockouts. He is slow moving but can toss punches fast. Amateur fights usually are for three-rounds only, however.

Patterson has been guaranteed $250,000 for the fight and his manager, Gus D'Amato, said that Rademacher's backers also have put up an additional $100,000 in escrow to guarantee a return bout should Pete win the title.

D'Amato said the Rademacher fight won't be televised.

"And further," added D'Amato, "the heavyweight champion's fights will not be available for home television until one of the weekly network television fights shows is operated by an independent promoter."

Ron Northey, Back in Phils' Lineup, Clouts Game-Winning Two-Run Homer to Beat Reds

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
Ron Northey, too slow for the American League's "go-go" Chicago White Sox, is "back home" again just doing what comes naturally to keep the Philadelphia Phillies on the move in the National League race.

The husky, balding, 37-year-old slugger, in a Phillies uniform for the first time in 10 years, walloped a game-winning two-run homer in last night's 8-5 victory over Cincinnati—coming up in a pinch-hit role only hours after being picked up from the White Sox on waivers.

Northey's shot, his first home run of the year, hoisted the Phils within one percentage point of third-place Brooklyn and kept Philadelphia within 2½ games of first-place Milwaukee.

The Braves defeated Pittsburgh 5-2 but saw their lead shaved to a mere two percentage points over St. Louis as the Cardinals socked the New York Giants 7-3 on Joe Cunningham's pinch-hit grand-slam homer in the ninth.

The Dodgers split a pair with the Chicago Cubs, losing 4-3 after that was good enough for his first complete game since opening day.

In the American League, where the first-place New York Yankees have been forced to fight for their "run-away," Dick Donovan tossed a three-hitter to beat Washington 7-1 and keep the second-place White Sox within three games of the top. The Yankees whipped Kansas City 10-4.

Boston smacked Detroit 4-0 on the four-singles pitching of veteran Bob Porterfield, and Cleveland replaced the Tigers in fourth place with a 6-0 decision over Baltimore behind the three-hit pitching of Johnny Gray, back in the majors for the first time since 1955.

Larry Doby and Minnie Miñoso each hit a pair of home runs for the White Sox.

Porterfield pitched his first shutout since July 17, 1956. Jackie Jensen batted in three Sox runs with his 14th homer and a single as Frank Lary lost his 14th. Ted Williams went 3-for-4 to push his league-leading bat average to .384.

Yogi Berra, again wearing specs shook a slump with his 17th home run and three singles for four runs batted in. Whitey Ford won his sixth with a 13-hitter that was good enough for his first complete game since opening day.

Tickets Arrive For All Derby Entries To See Akron Classic

Jaycee Derby Director Dana Harland reports today that final plans are rapidly assuming shape for local participation in the National Soap Box Derby at Akron, Ohio August 18th.

Tickets have arrived insuring all local competitors a good seat at the spectacle and nearly enough drivers have been secured, though anyone who wishes to volunteer to drive a couple of the young sprouts may contact Harland at 1265.

More than 40 of the Soap Box Derbyites who raced in the Warren Classic in June are scheduled to make the trip. However, only the sleek racer of Derby winner Frank Burgett of Lander will be taken to Akron. Jaycees have been working on it the past few nights, glossing up the finish and painting in the "Warren Times-Mirror" banner which it may carry to victory. The Times-Mirror, Dan's Chevrolet and Jaycees pushed the local project to completion, with Harland at the wheel.

Phils' Manager Is Confident Team Can "Go All Way"

By JOE MOOSHL
Chicago, (P) — Mayo Smith, manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, believes his club can go all the way in the National League pennant race with a little more hitting and a few less injuries.

The Phils knocked off the last place Chicago Cubs 5-2 and 7-1 Sunday to move into a fourth place tie with Cincinnati, 2½ games behind the league-leading Milwaukee Braves.

"Injuries have hurt us," said Smith. "But considering the way we have played recently and still are in the race, I'd say we can go all the way if we get a little more hitting and cut down on the injuries."

"A lot of people thought our rookies would fold when the going got tough but they're the ones that are doing all the hitting. Ed Bouchee and Harry Anderson have acted like 'old pros' and if the vets come through we're going to be tough."

"We have, in my opinion, the best pitching staff in the league and if we get a little more hitting and cut down on the injuries, I think we'll go all the way."

Granny Hamner, one of the Phils' vets, was directly responsible for both victories over the Cubs Sunday. Hamner, who went into the game with a .222 batting average, drove in two runs in the opener and then snapped a scoreless tie with a two-out, two run double in the eighth.

"If we can just get started," said Smith, "we may have found the cure-all."

Out of Baseball 29 Years, Cobb Still Fights Umpires

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—At 70, Tyrus Raymond Cobb wears glasses, but the eyes that made him the greatest ballplayer who ever lived miss nothing.

While Cobb and I watched the Braves edge the Giants at the Polo Grounds the other night he commented on everything from New York's two National League clubs being California bound to the size of Del Crandall's feet.

Regarding the contemplated franchise switches: "The first thing they know major league owners will run out of town and then will have to come crying back to the rich fields they left."

Crandall raced back to the screen after a foul fly. "Look at the little feet on that catcher."

While he realized that the Giants are hard up for runs, Cobb couldn't understand Willie Mays attempting to steal on the first pitch in the eighth inning of a 1-1 game. "Not without protection from the batter," Bobby Thomson made no effort to swing at an obvious pitch-out. Umpire Lee Ballanfant thumbed Mays out.

"HE WASN'T OUT!" Cobb snapped to Joe Cairnes, president of the Milwaukee club, seated with us. Out of baseball for 29 years, Cobb, who in his own mind never was out on a close one, still violently disagrees with umpires. "They have blind spots," he said.

Frank Frisch came by to remind Cobb that the Georgia Tech always played in long sleeves and with the shirt collar pinned up around his throat. The long sleeves protected his elbows and the pinned-up collar kept out the dirt when he slid. "And I got on base many times when faked here," recalled Cobb, flipping his right sleeve.

What did he think of the bare-armed ballplayer of today? "They're out there for comfort."

Did Cobb, during his 24 years of clawing and cutting American League baseball, ever wear anything in his cap as a protection against bean balls? "Not a thing, and I was the original African dodger."

NOW THAT BALLPLAYERS wear protective helmets, are more batters hit by pitched balls and why? "It seems that way and it is because they are more spread out, anchored there. They can't get out of the way."

On the shift against Eddie Mathews, a left-hand pull hitter, especially when he faces a left-hand pitcher, the shortstop plays well to the other side of second base.

"Mathews can't change his stance to meet situations. Against a left-hand pitcher (Johnny Antonelli was working for the Giants), Mathews should close his stance, choke the bat a little and move a little farther away from the plate."

"LEFT-HAND BATTEES SHOULD hit left-hand pitchers to left field. If the batter closes his stance, he hasn't committed his outside foot, but all they want to do is swing from the end of the bat, and they can't pull against a locked hip. A left-hand pitcher's curve is spinning away from a left-hand batter. He should hit the ball with its strength."

Red Schoendienst singled between the third baseman and the shortstop. "See how those choke hitters but 'em," enthused Cobb. Would Cobb stick to his Willie Keeler type of hitting in this day of the live ball?

"No, sir-ee," said the fiery genius of the game. "I'd adjust myself to home run hitting."

"But look, that third baseman way back there. What a tramp would do?"

JACKSON GOES DOWN—Tommy "Hurricane" Jackson sprawls on the canvass in the ninth round at New York's Polo Grounds for the third time in his heavyweight championship battle with champ Floyd Patterson. The challenger's jaw is distended. Referee Ruby Goldstein stopped the bout in the 10th after Jackson had taken a bloody beating.

the league and that's what we must depend upon," said Smith.

"If we can just cut down the injuries and pick up our hitting, we could win. Losing Rip Repulski, Stan Lopata and Chico Fernandez because of injuries didn't help, but they're all back now and let's just hope we don't lose any more players because of injuries."

"I know a lot of folks are pulling for us because we're the underdogs. Well, we're going to try not to disappoint them."

Warren County Dairy won over Nelson and Ellberg 5-3 on Memorial last evening in the Bantam division. Schimmell had a homer for the Dairy, McMahon, double. Gellotte also had a homer for Nelson and Ellberg, Sly, double.

Western Auto defeated Akeley Merchants 4-0 at Beatty last night in the Midget league. Check had a triple for the victors. Lund, winning pitcher who twirled a 2-hit, also had a double. Check was behind the plate. Lohnes, Johnson, Swanson were battery for Akeley. Western Auto had a double play, their first.

WNAB bowed to Newell Press 11-5 Tuesday at Russell in the Midget league. Lundahl, winning pitcher, had a homer, Gebhart, and Riggs, doubles. Peterson was behind the plate. Warren, Dove and Darts doubled for WNAB.

Pitching — John Gray, Indians came through with a three-hitter, nursing a 1-0 lead with a one-hitter for eight innings, for a 6-0 victory over Orioles in first major league appearance since 1955.

Bucs Drop Another Edge Cuttings And Bobby Bragan Loses His Temper

Milwaukee (P) — The Pittsburgh Pirates lost a 5-2 decision to the league leading Milwaukee Braves last night and Pirate manager Bobby Bragan lost his temper after the game.

Bragan announced he's asking National League President Warren Giles to break up the umpiring combination of Bill Baker, Frank Dascoli, Frank Secory and Stan Landes.

Landes ejected Pirate pitcher Bob Purkey for bench jockeying. And Dascoli refused to allow Bragan's claim that Lew Burdette wasn't keeping his pivot foot in contact with the rubber while pitching.

The objection didn't bother Burdette and Bragan's comments didn't seem to bother Dascoli, the umpire in chief of the four-man crew. Burdette spun a neat five hitter, winning his fourth game in a row from the Pirates this season. He now has a lifetime mark of 13-2 against the Pirates.

The defeat, fourth in a row for the Pirates, left them only one game out of the National League cellar. Gene Freese hit a homer for the Pirates in the first inning, but the Braves scored single runs in the second, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh.

Mailman Is Leading Field at Hershey Golf Tournament

Hershey (P)—Bud Kivett, medalist in the 32nd National Public Links golf championship, has an occupation that puts him in stride on or off a golf course. But the usual weekday lives of some of his rivals may explain why they didn't do better.

Kivett, 34, is a mailman in High Point, N. C., and what could be more natural than for him to take a walk on his days off? He has been a competitor in the public links championship only three times, but lasted until the last 16 two years ago at Indianapolis. He has won the High Point city championship five times and two years ago tied for amateur honors in the Greater Greensboro Open tournament.

Three players who wound up one stroke behind Kivett's 141 in the 36-hole qualifying test over the short but tough Hershey Park course were James "June" Buxbaum of Memphis, Tenn., the defending champion; Dr. Sam Valuck, 34, Denver osteopath who formerly lived in Muskegon, Mich. and Jack S. S. Chun, a short chubby Hawaiian, who slyly boasts that he has won the Chinese championship of Hawaii five times.

WILDLIFE NOTES

From the Weekly Newsletter issued by the Pennsylvania Game Commission.

Reflecting on the state's grouse population in the last two years, Dr. Ward M. Sharp, Leader of The Pennsylvania Cooperative Wildlife Research Unit, concludes:

"The past year presented happenings within the grouse population that produced both negative and positive results. Results on the negative side were manifested in a crash within the population, and those on the positive side were that the population decline was so spectacular as to provide valuable information on probably the chief factor causing population crashes in grouse populations."

"I was fortunate in having 14 grouse nests under observation in 1956. This number in one season was—within itself—indicative of a good nesting year. Having this basis to work from, it was more easy to follow the crash in the brood population."

"By July, broods were very scarce. This is the month of the year when broods are most readily observed. The Barrens grouse study area showed one of the smallest prospects for young grouse since brood studies were started in 1948. On other years low brood counts were noted in 1946 when only 6 broods and in 1948 when only 8 broods were located. By way of contrast this same area supported 24 broods in 1955."

"The fall population of ruffed grouse was very spotty, being noticeably below normal on most areas. The fall population represented the carry-over of old birds plus the light brood crop of 1956. Census data for December indicated a satisfactory carry-over of breeding stock. If 1957 is a good year, like 1955, the population should bounce back to normal levels. But range conditions were generally unfavorable for overwintering grouse populations. And, this in itself, could be a factor having an adverse effect on the 1957 nesting season."

Pitcher Called Up From Coast Team Helps Indians

Baltimore (P)—John Gray, 29-year-old righthand pitcher who hadn't started a major league game in 2½ years, allowed only three hits in pitching the Cleveland Indians to a 6-0 shutout over the Baltimore Orioles last night.

Gray was recalled a few days ago from San Diego of the Pacific Coast League. In 1954 he had a 3-12 record with the old Philadelphia Athletics and had a reputation for wildness. But last night he gave up only two walks and he the Orioles at bay until the ninth when he gave up two of his hits.

Gavilan Meets Ortega In Florida This Evening

Miami Beach, Fla. (P)—T night's nationally televised fight could be billed as a battle between two former child prodigies—Gavilan of Cuba and Gaspar (O dian) Ortega of Mexico.

Gavilan, now 31, claims he started fighting as an amateur at was 16. He has had 137 bouts losing only 27.

Ortega, born in Mexico Oct. 1926, says he quit a bull-fighting career at 15 to turn ring fighting and will be a slight favor over the former champion.
